BLUEJACKET BAND AND JUDGE LUECK OPEN LOAN DRIVE

VISITING BOND BOOSTERS GIVEN WARM WELCOME AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH BY CAPACITY HOUSE.

Inspiring Community Singing of American Songs and Great Address by Judge Lueck.

Janesville is going to greatly over-subscribe her quota of the Fourth Liberty Loan if the spirit displayed by the 1,500 people who packed the Congregational church to capacity last evening may be taken as a criterion. The audience in the church last night was the largest ever gathered there for their pockets next month to loan their money to Uncle Sam. Judge Lueck's wonderful address, the pleasing concert by the Great Lakes Blue-jacket band, and the spirit shown by the audience in the community singing which was led by Prof. Gordon of the state university, all combined to make the meeting one of great success, and if it may be the opening gun of the Fourth Liberty Loan campaign here, then it may be said that it was a monster gun which was fired.

Although the program was scheduled to begin at seven-thirty, it was after eight o'clock before the naval band moved to begin the concert. Long before the first number on the program it was found necessary to hang out the "S. R. O." sign. The largest audience in the city was literally packed with people. The Blue-jacket band of thirty pieces scored their usual big hit in this city and their rendition of all the popular airs was enthusiastically applauded. They responded to encore after encore, being loath to let them stop playing.

A. P. Lovejoy, who presided at the meeting then in a few well chosen words told of the purpose of the gathering and introduced Prof. Gordon, who led the community singing which followed. "America," "Keep the Home Fires Burning," and "Over There" were the pieces sung by the vast audience to the music of the Blue-jacket band.

"We mean business; we're literally out for blood," said Mr. Lovejoy in telling of the purpose of the meeting. "Rock county's quota of the loan is $3,500,000, and we must raise $1,100,000 within ten days in this city alone. Every man and woman in this city who is able to, and there are few who are not, must buy Liberty bonds when the drive starts." After announcing the purpose of the gathering, Judge Lueck, who presided at the meeting, then introduced Judge Lueck of Janesville, who gave one of the most masterful addresses ever heard in this city.

He traced the causes which brought about the great war, spoke of the startling revelations of Prince Lichnowsky, and made a strong appeal for loan subscriptions. "The Blue-jacket band," Prof. Gordon, in a few words, "are making a tour of the state—not so much to arouse patriotism, for I know that it is not necessary to come to a city like Janesville to arouse patriotism—but for the purpose of bringing home to the people of the state the part which they can play in this, the nation's greatest crisis."

With the aid of the statements of Prince Lichnowsky, former German minister to England, the judge showed forcibly and clearly that Germany started the war for conquest and aggression. Although of German descent himself, he strongly declared that he is standing for America and the country which holds and protects all that he holds dear to him. "Although we had faith at the outset that we were fighting for a just cause, passing events have confirmed the justice of our cause," he said.

In this great struggle which has no parallel in history, we have for our associates over half the countries of the world, and are fighting against the greatest military machine ever established. Our own military is at stake and let us all at this time stand by but one country, America!

"The time of delay is here. It is not a time for excitement or for hysteria, but it is a time for calm determination on the part of everyone to see that our government is furnished enough money to feed and clothe our boys across the water.

He paid a touching tribute to the mothers who have given their sons to the nation's cause and closed his talk with an earnest appeal for subscriptions to the Fourth Liberty Loan. Prof. Gordon then led the audience in several more songs closing the successful meeting.

ONE DELIVERY HAS MET WITH APPROVAL

New System of Delivery Advocated by Government Has Met With Approval of Janesville Residents.

The Government's request for one delivery a day to the city of Janesville met with almost general response, both by the citizens of the city and the dealers. It has been brought to the attention, however, of the Council of Defense that there still are a few persons who have failed to meet requirements of the request and this fact has been reported to Washington.

The government points out the necessity at this time of curtailing delivery of merchandise of any kind whatsoever, due to the shortage of man power. As a matter of fact, it has been proved conclusively through a study of the situation, not only in Janesville but in every city in the country, that delivery of merchandise has been overdone and that a housewife can readily respond to her day's requirements at a specified time rather than distribute it over many hours of each day. As has been the custom, she permits her orders to be delivered at one time rather than at a number of times each day.

A quota of men, in number 213, has been set for Northern Rock county, at which Janesville is to be taken from non-essential employment and put in essentials. It is the belief of those interested, and to whom the order has come, that not one home in the city will refuse to respond to the urge that they aid in this delivery matter.

In many cities delivery has been curtailed to a point where but such small quantities of coal and heavy goods are permitted. Therefore, Janesville is more or less favored that such drastic order has not been home in the city. That we may be permitted to carry on our daily delivery each must do his or her part.

MEMBERS' COUNCIL WILL HOLD LUNCHEON

First Noon Day Luncheon of Chamber of Commerce Body Will Be Held at Myers Hotel on Monday.

The first noonday luncheon of the Members Council of the Chamber of Commerce will be held next Monday from 12:15 to 2 p.m. The luncheon will be held in the time allotted to it—one hour. A program has been arranged which embraces 20 minutes for the luncheon itself; 5 minutes for the report of the committee on the subject chosen by the committee and which is of the utmost importance to Janesville; 25 minutes has been appointed for the speaker, who will talk on a subject that is of vital importance to every business man and citizen of the city.

The purpose of the Members Council in holding this luncheon and others which may follow is to bring men together to discuss the important phases of development of the city for which the Chamber of Commerce is working. Men must be brought together to discuss the problems of the city, which is applicable now as perhaps never before. Each person attending the luncheon has been assured of being able to keep any appointment made after 1:15.

The personnel of the September luncheon committee is J. A. Denning, Chairman; F. H. Jackson and C. A. Enslow.

HUNDREDS SEEK AID OF ADVISORY BOARD

Members of Legal Advisory Board Giving Help and Advice to Registrants in Filling Out Questionnaires.

One of the busiest places in the city these days is the second floor of the city hall. Every day and every evening until ten o'clock members of the legal advisory board are hard at work filling out the questionnaires of the registrants who register for military service, September 12th. All day yesterday and today the board office was filled with people and it was ten-thirty o'clock last evening before the first day's work was completed.

Members of the board will be present at the court house this evening until ten o'clock for the purpose of aiding registrants in their work. The board is on duty all day tomorrow and tomorrow evening.

Scores of questionnaires have already been returned and the board is on duty to handle the increased amount of business.

SHOW REASONS WHY THEY ARE NOT IN USEFUL INDUSTRIES

Twelve Men Appear Before Draft Board Under "Work or Fight" Order. Reasons Are Secret.

Behind closed doors, twelve registrants appeared before the local board at the post office today to show reasons why they are not engaged in a useful and necessary employment or occupation. The appearance of these men marks the beginning of the actual enforcement of the Crowder "Work or Fight" order in this district.

REBEKAH LODGE HOLDS ANNIVERSARY PARTY

A pleasing little program was given last evening to celebrate the 87th anniversary of the local Rebecca Lodge. It was given in the lodge room after the regular meeting of the order. Jas. A. Fathers made a brief address in which he called attention to the history of the organization, and gave a forceful tribute to the womanhood of the nation, who just now are doing such good work along every line in helping out on the country's welfare.

Miss Cecil Brigham gave a violin solo accompanied by Misses Mary and Ellen June. Fathers sang, "So Long Boy," and gave several pretty little dances.

Walter Helms gave several saxophone numbers, among them being "Pleasant Dreams," and "Perfect Day."

The program was in charge of Mrs. J. R. Nichols, Mrs. W. B. Davis, and Mrs. W. E. Olin.

CHICAGO MARKETS.

Chicago, Sept. 20.—Too many cattle of one kind are making trouble for stock yard salesmen. Feeders are imbued with the idea that only war beef is wanted, danger of overproduction of that kind.

This week's market has been glutted with 1,100 to 1,300 lb. steers that have been realizing high prices and having access to more than they needed—packers backed away resulting in a 50c drop.

Such bullocks are high even now after a decline of $1 per cwt. being worth $14.50 @ 16. They have exerted a depressing influence on Westerns, which broke 25c.

Feeders had several thousand cattle in their killing beds and a clearance was doubtful.

Feeders Counting Trouble.

By running together like a flock of sheep, feeders invariably court trouble. Last fall because heavy cattle commanded a premium, everybody made that kind, the result being a disastrous trade in January and February. A danger signal is flying.

An Armour was placed on a breaking hog market, reversing his present policy and at an average 25c decline trade was slow. The big house bought leisurely at $19.45 @ 20, all the lesser concerns taking a few hogs.

A $20.55 top was made, but $20.50 topped practically everything.

But Lamb's Advance.

Scarcity of lambs caused a 25c advance. A band of Washington stock bringing $18.50. Fat sheep were slow, and the feeders market was uncertain.

C. B. Heinemann, secretary of the National Live Stock Exchange, has been "loaned" by that organization to the Railroad administration and will go to Washington to straighten out existing tangles concerning live "saint" non-transportation of live stock.

A view to settling many disputes of long standing between the carriers and live stock shippers.

A run of 16,000 was excessive as a clearance was not made Wednesday heavy Westerns were hit hard, sales being 75c lower than early in the week, middle grades being off 25c @ 50c, while light cattle lost nothing.

MAN POWER.

There are many men in Janesville who have had experience in various lines of active industry previous to their present occupation, that can be utilized for various lines of industry most essential to war work. If not in a large extent, they find themselves no worse off than the average citizen. A flourishing back yard garden is a wonderful source of independence. Next thing to it is a good storage cellar where vegetables can be kept through the winter. Our modern houses are apt to lack this important feature.

Where would Janesville be today if it were not for the loyal women who answer to every call. Who knit and sew and work with ready fingers to make both ends of the family purse meet without a deficit? These women are the heroes of the war, perhaps not the "dumbest per cent loyalists," but a darning sight nearer this classification than the aspiring politician who parades the country wrapped in the American flag, yet afraid to go to war himself.

It is not permissible to state how many Janesville factories are engaged in war work; the government asks the newspapers to refrain from doing so, but we can state that the man power of skilled artisans can be increased materially if many of the men employed now in inconsequential lines of work are placed in the front rank of producers for war purposes. A toll of these men is already being taken and the result will be surprising. Many a man with a trade can be taken from an office chair and put at work, as well as clerks, and even some well along in the world's wealth as measured in dollars and cents.

These are war days and Janesville and Rock county must expect almost anything to happen. All the men who have failed to enlist and are called slackers, men who have failed to respond to the various financial drives and the stickers who have obtained deferred classification, can and small comfort in knowing there are others in inconsequential lines of business who will find it best to take up some real line of activity before long or be subject to government scrutiny.

LOYALTY.

The question of loyalty and stonewall Americanism has played its part in the recent primaries. The defeat of Cooper for the nomination, and also of Nelson and Carr, in the congressional fight, can all be laid to their "anti-war votes," and to nothing else. No matter how loyal they have been since the war was actually declared, their attitude previous to the war, even though it accorded with the president's who was elected on a platform, "I kept you out of war," they have suffered. The same is true of the wonderfully reduced vote of Governor Philipp for re-nomination. No one doubts for one second Philipp's loyalty, but the continual hammering of his opponents upon his pre-war fortune had its effect, and even the politician who would blind himself to results must acknowledge it.

Cooper, Nelson and Carr went down in defeat at the primaries and Philipp pulled through by a narrow margin. His opponent paraded the state on a "hundred per cent loyalty" platform, the disclaimed his wonderful belief in the "stars and stripes" and wrapped himself in old glory and denounced Philipp. Aside from the question of religion—an eleventh hour consideration—loyalty played the important part of the campaign and accounted for the vote which he received. Even though many men hoped to vote war and could not, and then when war actually came worked for it to the best of their efforts, they have been branded by the same tar and pitch of the ultra war citizens who spit their teeth and would surrender the country's honor for the sake of peace.

No one wants war, but we all glory in the success of the American troops now we are in war and we can assure the federal government just as the republican platform does, that we are behind the administration for the successful termination of the struggle. Behind them with money and munitions, behind them with funds for every camp activity and all the needs of the fighting men at home and abroad. This state is loyal and the republican platform says so, even though the democratic dogma fails to acknowledge the fact. Of course, in a general way, the democrats claim loyalty, but they devote too much space to criticizing the republicans and too little to real war facts.

Governor Philipp has been re-nominated by a narrow majority. The whys and wherefores need not be gone into. The cry "loyalty" played an important part in the fight, but there were other elements as important for the reduced majority a man with his record as a "war governor" might have expected. He is nominated and the republican platform (one of those strange patchwork sort of affairs that covers all the loyalty characteristics that are needed. Philipp is running as a loyalty candidate on a loyalty platform and he will be elected as such. The war is on and all pre-war declarations and notions are pre-primary history.

COST OF FOOD.
The figures recently given out by the government as to food costs show a corresponding increase. Prices of farm products are up sixty-three per cent over five years ago.

shows that these costs can to a partial extent be controlled. Potatoes and several other vegetables have declined during the past year. This is due to the increase in back yard gardens. And the product of these gardens should be even more.

Many people during the first two seasons only cultivated little patches, because it is always hard to work new land. Now that they have dug over their back yards, and got the earth to working easily, they should have courage to dig up some more. Every yard capable of vegetable raising must be made to do its duty.

Also gardeners should have learned by their previous mistakes. It is a fairly simple thing to raise vegetables. If you buy good fertilizer and seed and keep the weeds out, with every one raising a good sized garden, vegetable prices should be lower than they were five years ago.

Meat prices of course can not be controlled. They depend upon worldwide conditions that we can not help. The government and the agricultural schools should be able to encourage the raising of more cattle and sheep so that in time meat will come down somewhat. Next to the war problem, no more important duty rests on the government than this, to find out how our people can secure an adequate supply of meat at fair prices.

Many people of course have met the difficulty by cutting out meat to a large extent. They find themselves no worse off than the average citizen. A flourishing back yard garden is a wonderful source of independence. Next thing to it is a good storage cellar where vegetables can be kept through the winter. Our modern houses are apt to lack this important feature.

KEEPING UP ADVERTISING.

If one will take the trouble to look over the metropolitan newspapers, he must see that the great department stores are advertising just as usual. It is a hard time for retail trade, as prices are high. Still people are earning more money, and there is an abundance of money in circulation.

So any business man who lies down and says that times are so hard that he can't advertise, is failing to take advantage of good chances. The people are going to buy a lot of goods this fall. They are of course wearing old clothes and economizing, wherever they can. But they have been doing that for more than a year now. There comes a time when renewals have to be made.

Reference has been made to the big city department stores, not because these places have any better bargains than the home merchant, but because they do have skilled publicity men, who make an expert study of how to appeal to the public mind.

If they keep on advertising liberally they do it because they know there is still money in retail trade, and that it pays to tell the public what you have and push for new business. They spend money for advertising scientifically, as a result of the most exhaustive experiment.

If they can increase their sales through their great and costly advertising, the home merchant can do the same thing in a manner fairly proportioned to his volume of business. Our people were never before so keen for a bargain. They do not expect low prices. If you merely show them that they will make a saving by buying at present prices, in view of prospects of advance, they have sense enough to anticipate the market. There never was a time when judicious advertising was more necessary.

The fact that a motorist can drive continuously for six hours on a Sunday run, does not prove that he can keep quiet in his pew on a gasless Sunday while the minister preaches forty minutes.

The slackers are mistaken if they think that yellow goose-flesh is to be permitted to grow fat in safety at home, while our best blood and brains is being put into the trenches.

The people who complain because soldiers aren't going over faster to Europe, are sometimes the same ones who help fill up the railroad cars by taking unnecessary journeys.

The movie man might get a new slant on how to register "Amused Tolerance" by studying the expression of Frank W. Mr. Fruess is an active executive in the copper industry and holds more jobs than any man in the United States.

THE SUNDAY RIDE.
Listen, my children, and you shall hear
Of the Sunday ride of Slacker Schnee.
A very weakly denatured Hun,
Who scoffed at requests from Washington.

When all true patriots stayed at home
He took his flivver to gaily roam
With Gusse and Lena and Huns and
His children four, and his hausfrau Mitz.

The only person in his whole street
To sit that day in the driver's seat
He sped through valley and dell and pass.

And every moment turned on more guts.
His motor sang its gladiolus tunes.
So the slacker murmured, "Gott mit uns!"

And he failed to hear the grim "pop-pop."
Betraying a Yankee motorcar.
Who overhauled him with message dire
By shooting a hole in a good rear tire.

For Schnee, with a sense of scorn
And power,
Had made his fiftyodd miles an hour.
And he, straightway, heard his doleful fate.

From the lips of a patriot magistrate,
"One hundred dollars for fine will do.
With thirty days in the workhouse, too."
How like the Kaiser's ride "mit Gott!"
Through the grimace of his juggernaut,
Which started well, as all joy rides must,
But ended forlorn in a cultured "bust."

More heavy firing expected on the western front. It is reported the Kaiser is going to fire Hindy.

Corporal William McDonald in Letter Tells of Big Drive in Which Boys Kept Huns on the Run

Corporal William McDonald of Headquarters Company 32nd Division has written a most interesting and descriptive letter from France, telling of the big drive.

Corporal McDonald is a former Janesville boy and a former member of Company M. In his letter he tells of the remarkable bravery shown by the boys of the United States and also speaks very optimistic of the end of the war. His letter follows:

At the Front,
Somewhere in France.
August 7th, 1918

Dear Friend George—
This part of my letter as you can see was written some time after the other one to you. But we went into action so quickly that I have not had time to mail this. But the Hun has been on the jump since the start of this drive, on the Huns.

You sure must have read the papers and kept an eye on the changes of the battle line. We sure did drive those boches. When I say "We," I mean the men of our division. They sure made a name for themselves. We were all very proud of them.

The villages that have recently come into our hands sure do show great evidence of heavy and solid fighting. We came into Chateauau only a few days after Mr. Boche had been driven out. From my window here, over a stable, you can look out over a hill that was once a field of blood. The Huns had machine gun pits and trenches. There is almost a hundred of dead boches lying about. Some are in the trench they are in there deep.

You bet our boys, brave men, every one, marched straight into the rain of machine gun bullets, and killed the Germans where they stood. On the edge of our trench, is buried a corporal, and his men. Their rifles with bayonets still fixed, lay where they were dropped in the mud. Their blood is all over the ground. But for that blood the Germans paid dearly.

When the trench was deep with their heads smashed in. No quarter was asked, and none was given. All over the hill can be seen the dead bodies of our boys and the bayonet work. I went into a house with some war correspondents of the New York Herald. An aged couple came in to see us. They had been once prisoners, but made good their escape when the drive was at its height. They returned only to find a shell of what was once a good home. The walls were ruined and furniture, and they said they would remain and get along somehow.

There were many rifles and ammunition lying about the place. Everything showed signs of a fierce encounter. A few feet away lay the body of a German dead, one of the best of the bunch that comes from these battle fields is awful. Piles are so thick that you almost breathe them. They get into your food, your eyes and your nose. The walls are so thick with black with them. It has been raining for three or four days. The roads are deep with mud. By that means the Hun is turned pretty cold, and tonight, I am going to turn in, in heavy marching order. Can you imagine those boys, the poor fellows have lost their equipment. Digging themselves in, and living in trenches filled with water, and some without blankets.

The devastation left in the wake of Mr. Boche is fierce. Beautiful homes where once lived happy and contented people. Most of the homes were furnished wonderfully, and now almost total ruins. At one place we saw some grand chateaus that was more than a crime to despoil.

Many of my old comrades have been checked off, but the reports do not say in very fast in a drive like this, so I am waiting patiently for some word from my company. I saw many of my old friends in the front. They started to see me, and I was glad to see them. The old company's privates were all sent away soon after the drive. But I saw also a few of the non-coms. from Janesville, and Edgerton. They all made a name for themselves. My pal and I walked over a heavy battle was running over a heavy ridge, on the woods just ahead, where the Germans were located. We came through a wheat field and were chased by the boches. We emerged into some woods. We emerged on the opposite side. We saw troops marching up the road. I ran forward. They called to me and I ran forward. I discovered it was C. M. I shook hands with all that I knew, and said good-bye. Then fell in with them for a little way.

DEPARTMENT ANSWERS EARLY MORNING CALL

Fire caused by a defective chimney called the department to the home of E. Huggins at 402 North Bluff street at eight thirty o'clock this morning. It is thought that the blaze started from poor ventilation in the chimney.

Mr. Huggins who was downstairs at the time stated that he smelled smoke and upon investigating found that the blaze had gained a headway and was burning the roof.

A still alarm was sent in and upon the arrival of the department the blaze was quickly extinguished by the use of chemicals. The loss will amount to about fifty dollars.

"PASSERS BY" PLAYED BY STOCK COMPANY

The Frank Winniger Stock Company played "Passers By" at the Myers Theatre last night. The play showed some of the strange types of people who may be passing by your apartment daily, and had a pretty love story woven through it, which made it very interesting.

Frank took the part of a tramp, making the audience burst into laughter at every move.

Miss Dawn Winniger, Frank's daughter, made her appearance for the first time on the stage last night. Little Dawn was very prettily dressed in a dark velvet suit, and white collar. She acted her part as little Peter Summers fine.

The play to be presented by Mr. Winniger tonight is "Some Baby."

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

Editor Gazette:—I believe I express the voice of the people when I ask the question, how long will Janesville permit the local street cars to run down our streets with so little control that they cannot be stopped at a moment's notice, and with practically no fences or protection for children or other pedestrians?

I did not see the accident on South Franklin street last Saturday when a car was so horribly and fatally mangled. I understand that the local street car, under which the child, was dropped to ride the rails when the motorist saw that he must strike a pedestrian. That in case he is not quick enough to drop it in the rails, the force of anyone striking the mesh fence automatically drops a second fence between this first one and the wheels, and thus double protection is offered. Will anyone take a look at the Janesville cars and tell me what chance a child has for his life if once struck?

The next day I noticed the street cars of Madison with their double fences. I understand that the protection which these cars give, if Janesville is to go forward we must value our people more than we seem to, and the street car system surely needs prompt and vigorous attention. Here is a first class job for the city council and the chamber of commerce.

MR. ARNOLD DALY

In An Historical American Drama in Eight Parts

"MY OWN UNITED STATES"

"My Own United States" pictures the most interesting pages of American history. It is not a war picture, but a romantic drama showing real historical characters in events vital to the history of the nation. Philip Nolan—"The Man Without a Country"—is the dominating character around which the story centers. This wilful young man who became an exile in the hands of Aaron Burr, is depicted in his youthful romances and moments of tragic struggle. His profound faith in Burr made him the most misunderstood man in the world, and his impetuous nature strengthened this impression. The picture shows the duel of Hamilton and Burr, the battle of the famous Frigate "Constitution" with the Algerian pirates, and others of equal import, each of which is noted with the utmost fidelity.

All seats, matinee and night, 25c. (War tax included)

The assembly will be called to order by Chief Clerk, F. E. Shaffner. It is necessary for the legislature to go through the perfunctory election of officers. In the senate the meeting will be called by Chief Clerk O. G. Stinson.

George B. Hummel, Milwaukee, Gov. Philip's executive advisor is already at work in the executive office preparing the bills for the special session. These measures will be presented and ready for the members by the time the two houses have organized. The bills are short. This is the second special session of the legislature that has been held this year.

Other session was held on Feb. 19th.

Miss Myers has had no stage experience and since she is only 17 years old she has had little time for much screen experience.

She was formerly a Griffith star and played in "Fine Arts," Metro, Universal and most recently with Bluebird. Many people remember her as the vivacious heroine in "The Haunted Pajamas" with Harold Lockwood. Miss Myers is slight of build with a beautiful olive complexion, brown hair and green eyes. She screens very well indeed, but her success was by no means the result of her beauty only. She is really quite a little actress and has shown great ability both in ingenué and heavy parts. Some of her emotional acting is quite remarkable for one so young.

She is the daughter of Rabbi Myers, a prominent man in the Jewish church circles of Los Angeles. She was born in San Francisco and educated in Los Angeles.

In her coming venture on the speaking stage she has come to an understanding with no less a personality than A. H. Woods. It is reported that she will appear in one of his productions this fall or some time during the early winter.

Liberty Loan Films Ready.

Sept. 25 is the date set aside by the government for the beginning for the fourth Liberty Loan drive. A week earlier is the time set for the release of the Liberty Loan picture and the film will start their work at the earliest possible moment.

The treasury department, headed by Frank Wilson, gave splendid cooperation and assistance in getting the motion picture drive started. The treasury department has worked right with the moving picture committee of the National Association of the Motion Picture Industry to get results.

The pictures sent in and the titles of the films which have been distributed by being christened with a regular name, show decided interest and eagerness to stir up the most blasé audience to even greater patriotic enthusiasm.

Some of these Liberty Loan films now reposing on the shelf for action are: "S. Hart," "The Taming of Kaiser Bill," "Mae Murray," "Liberty Bond Jimmy," "Building for Democracy," "The Story of the Victory for Democracy," "It's a Clinch," "Mack Bennett," "The Biggest and the Littlest Lady in the

THE POWER BEHIND THE FIRE.

(Historical Crimes Series.)

In his quicksilver cloak of gold tunic studded with gleaming jewels, Nero, Emperor of all the Romans, reclined upon a stone divan covered with huge elephant skins. His little eyes, close-set in a red, puffy face, were staring straight ahead over the Tiger river towards Rome. Evidently he expected to see something, so fixed were his green eyes, in their staring, staring. (See Quintus Caelius's Staring at the Stars in Roman Stories.)

In one fat, white hand rested a lyre, in the other a stilius and tablet, ready for dictation.

Lovely female slaves lounged around on rugs and pillows, humming in low, musical voices the latest songs; this creating a musical atmosphere for Nero to compose his lyrics on the lyre.

Suddenly at the appointed hour (ten minutes past eleven by the moon), a single solitary rocket shot into the air and dropped down Nero's long and little spurs into the Tiger. "It hath begun!" quoth Nero, happily. "Them slaves didn't strike after all. They must of been willing to fire up for the two talents an ignita that I offered them. By the gods! To the lyre!" he cried, as seven fire shoots of flame shot up into the limpid heavens. And he clasped one heavily-jewelled hand upon the instruments, gazed at it admiringly, and then started to tink. (See Cyrus Damascus's Famous Tinkers and How They Tinkled.)

Then some more red and yellow flames flared up and licked the sky. Nero laughed.

Horses and cattle stamped the streets—pigs jumped overboard from his roof-garden.

Then he started to sing.

The antipodes of Heaven only have ever heard such rotten music. Blend of the tinkler-tink and plink-plink-plink of the lyre, came the haunting music of Nero's voice—some teeth were surely missing. (See Dinkus Blatt's "Ancient Hisses Before Dentistry.")

The song immortal verse and worse, was to the tune of "Hail, Hail, the Gang's All Here!" But Nero scorned plagiarism and composed these words to it which were found almost obliterated upon a hunk of cheese buried in Nero's safe.) Live, Fire, Rome's homes're on fire! Plinky-

WHO'S WHO in the Daily News

MAJ. GEN. WILLIAM S. GRAVES.

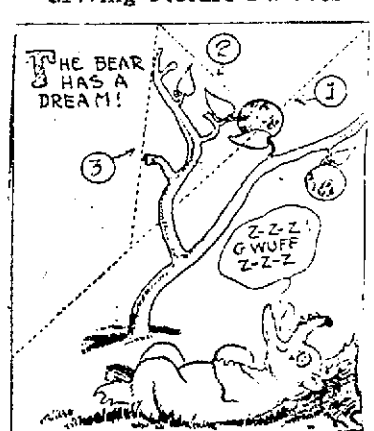

Major General William S. Graves, who until recently was assistant chief of staff, has been assigned by the war department to command the American expeditionary forces sent to Siberia to aid the Czechoslovak army which is operating against the German soldiers.

The nucleus of this armed force which is to make Siberia in behalf of world freedom will be the Twenty-seventh and Thirty-first regiments of the regular army, now stationed in the Philippines.

No intimation of the ultimate size of the American invading army has been given by General Graves, chief of the army staff.

Graves is about fifty years of age and has seen much of military service. He was formerly in command of the eighth army division, with headquarters at Camp Fremont, California. His present task is a very unusual one.

Carolyn of the Corners

By RUTH BELMONT ENDICOTT

"My goodness! I missed the mail—was dead, and he started instantly away from the scene, bareheaded as he was, without looking the door behind him—something he had never done before, since he had established himself in business on the main street of Janesville."

Just why he can be so easily startled had never explained. Of course, the children had not gone out in this snow storm. Mrs. Gormley—this woman as he believed the seamstress possessed—would not have allowed them to venture.

Yes, why had Chet not returned? He quickened his pace. He was running—slipping and sliding over the wet snow—when he turned into the street on which his store lay and his wild-eyed mother lived.

Mrs. Gormley saw him coming from the windows of the tiny front room.

Mr. Stagg plunged into the little house, bent down, and hid himself.

"Where's that plagued boy?" he demanded. "Don't tell me he's taken Hannah's Carolyn out on the cove in this storm?"

"But—you told him he could?"

"What if I did? I didn't know 'twas going to snow like this, did I?"

"But it wasn't snowing when they went," said Mrs. Gormley, plucking up some little spirit. "I'm sure it wasn't Chet's fault. Oh, dear! 'twas 'Woman's' fault," groaned Joseph Stagg. "It doesn't matter whose fault it is, but if it's anybody's fault, the mischief's done. The ice is breaking up. It's drifting out of the harbor."

When You Suffer From Rheumatism

Almost any man will tell you that Sloan's Liniment means relief.

For practically every man has used it who has suffered from rheumatic pains, stiffness of muscles, stiffness of joints, the results of weather exposure. Women, too, by the hundreds of thousands, use it for relieving painful, lame backs, neuritis, sick headache, clean, refreshing, soothing, economical, quickly effective. Say "Sloan's Liniment" to your druggist. Get it today.

MEN AND WOMEN IN FIGHTING TRIM

They Keep To The Top Notch of Health

The spirit of the times demands perfect health and nerves, and keeping them up to the highest degree of efficiency. Wise men and women have learned that it does not pay to allow health or nerves to run down and are quick to take advantage of Nature's greatest red blood and nerve tonic, Phosphated Iron, the minute they feel they are slowing up.

Whatever your work may be there is no reason why it should continue to tire you; work should only use the right amount of your energy. It is trying to work on your nerves and forcing yourself that wastes your strength, runs you down, gives you those restless nights, loss of appetite and indigestion, when you get up in the morning as tired as when you went to bed. There is no sense in anyone being a victim of ill health, poor blood, overwork, nerves or the blues when Phosphated Iron will afford such prompt and permanent relief.

All over the country men and women in every walk of life take their good health, strength and nerves of iron to the use of Phosphated Iron, the red blood and nerve builder, and it will also put you on your feet, make you feel like a live one. It produces results that last, that's what counts, not "fix" about it.

To insure physicians and their patients getting the genuine Phosphated Iron we have put in capsules only. Do not take pills or tablets. Insist on capsules. Smith Drug Co. and leading druggists everywhere. Advertisement.

Just at this moment an unexpected voice broke into the discussion. "Are you positive they went out on the cove to slide, Mrs. Gormley?" "Oh, yes, I he, Mandy," answered the seamstress. "Chet said he was going there, and what Chet says he'll do, he always does."

"Then the ice has broken away and they have been carried out into the lake," groaned Mr. Stagg. Mandy Parlow came quickly to the little hall.

Thought His Time Had Come—Disappointed

"I never was more surprised in my life than when I took the first dose of May's Wonderful Remedy. My stomach trouble had been of eight years' standing, sometimes so bad as to cause convulsions, followed by hemorrhage. I thought my time in this world was short, and believed it the last medicine I would ever take. It is now eight weeks since, and I am feeling better than for many years." It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. One dose will convince or money refunded. J. P. Baker and druggists everywhere.

All Choked Up With Catarrh? Why Continue Makeshift Treatment?

Sprays and douches will never cure you.

Catarrh is annoying enough when it chokes up your nostrils and air passages, causing painful and difficult breathing and other discomforts. But the real danger comes when it reaches down into your lungs.

This is why you should at once realize the importance of the proper treatment, and lose no time experimenting with worthless remedies which touch only the surface.

To be rid of Catarrh, you must drive the disease germs out of your blood. Splendid results have been reported from the use of S. S. S., which completely roots from your blood the Catarrh germs, for which it is a perfect antidote.

Careless Use of Soap Spoils the Hair

Soap should be used very carefully, if you want to keep your hair looking its best. Most soaps and prepared shampoos contain too much alkali. This dries the scalp, makes the hair brittle, and ruins it.

The best thing for steady use is just ordinary mulsed coconut oil (which is pure and greaseless), and is better than the most expensive soap or anything else you can use.

One or two teaspoonfuls will cleanse the hair and scalp thoroughly. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, which rinses out easily, removing every particle of dust, dirt, dandruff and excessive oil. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and it leaves the scalp soft and the hair fine and silky, bright, lustrous, fluffy and easy to manage.

You can get mulsed coconut oil at any pharmacy, it's very cheap, and a few ounces will supply every member of the family for months.
